When you use this website passively, we only process the personal data necessary for basic site functionality. Additional data will only be processed if you provide your explicit consent or if there is another legal basis for doing so.

If you use our site solely for informational purposes without registering or otherwise providing personal data, we process only the information that your browser automatically sends to our server. This includes:

Data Processing During Active Website Use

Below, we explain how we process data related to the functionalities of our website that you may actively use.

Use of Cookies

Our website uses cookies, which are small text files stored in your browser. These files help save identifiers and other information on your device (such as a computer or phone). Cookies cannot independently execute programs or transmit viruses. Their primary purpose is to enhance and streamline your experience on our website.

The term "cookies" in this context also includes similar technologies designed for the same purposes. We use both our own cookies and third-party cookies integrated into our website.

Technically Necessary Cookies

When you visit our website, cookies essential for its basic functionality are set. These include, for example, cookies to remember your language preferences or to record whether you have accepted or declined the use of additional cookies. These are "session cookies" and are deleted when you close your browser.

The legal basis for processing personal data through these necessary cookies is Article 6, Section 1(f) of the GDPR, which allows processing based on our legitimate interest in ensuring the smooth operation and fundamental functionality of the website.

Optional Cookies

Optional cookies are used to collect additional information, such as user interests or behavior on the site. This data helps us analyze and optimize the website and improve our interactions with visitors.

These cookies are only set if you give explicit consent. The legal basis for their use is your consent under Article 6, Section 1(a) of the GDPR.

Inquiries via Email or Phone

If you contact us by email or phone, we will process your personal data (e.g., your name and the content of your inquiry) to respond to your request.

- If the inquiry does not fall under these categories, processing is based on our legitimate interest in efficiently handling inquiries under Article 6, Section 1(f) of the GDPR.
- If you have given your consent, the processing is based on Article 6, Section 1(a) of the GDPR.

Your data will be retained until you request its deletion, withdraw your consent, or the purpose for storing it ceases to exist (e.g., once your inquiry has been resolved). Mandatory legal requirements for data retention remain unaffected.

Google Analytics

This website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland ("Google").

Google Analytics enables the website operator to analyze visitor behavior, collecting data such as the number of page views, time spent on the site, operating systems used, and the source of visitors. This data may be aggregated by Google into profiles linked to individual users or devices.

Google Analytics employs technologies (e.g., cookies or device fingerprinting) to recognize users and analyze their behavior. Information collected is transferred to and stored on Google servers in the USA.

- Data Privacy Concerns: The USA does not meet EU data protection standards, and U.S. authorities may access your data under certain circumstances.

To mitigate risks, IP anonymization is active on this website. Before transferring data to the USA, Google truncates your IP address within EU member states or other countries in the European Economic Area. Only in rare cases is the full IP address transmitted to the USA and truncated there.

Google uses this data to evaluate website usage, compile reports on website activity, and provide other services related to website and internet usage to the website operator.

- Legal Basis: The storage of data occurs based on your consent under Article 6, Section 1(a) of the GDPR.

- Opt-Out: You can prevent Google Analytics from processing your data by installing a browser plugin available at Google's Tools Page.
